

Executive Chef Dan Craig promotes Sustainability at EBO Restaurant & Lounge. This Summer EBO gives back to Mother Earth.

(Burnaby – June 30, 2010) Internationally trained and award winning Chef Daniel Craig brings his love of local ingredients and simple, yet elegant food to EBO Restaurant at the Delta Burnaby Hotel and Conference Centre. “At EBO we support local farmers. From Farm to Fork,” said Chef Daniel Craig.

Goderich, Ontario-born Chef Craig’s love of cooking began as a small child, baking with his grandmother. His love at a young age for the culinary arts took hold when he moved to the West Coast and began using the large and varied local ingredients native to British Columbia. Dan practices sustainability using only seasonal local products when available.

Chef Dan Craig’s Culinary Achievements

2004 – Graduated with Honors at Camosun College Culinary Arts Program

2007 – Competed and won Grand Gold Medal at la Chaine des Rotisseurs International Competition in Adelaide

– Moved to Paris, France to attend Le Cordon Bleu School of Culinary Arts

– trained under the Bocuse d’Or winner and Two Michelin Star Chef Francois Adamski

2010 – Appointed as Executive Chef for Delta Burnaby Hotel and Conference Centre and EBO Restaurant

Considering the culinary arts his calling, Chef Craig uses traditional French cuisine techniques as a springboard for exploring forward-thinking recipes with his love of local sustainable ingredients. EBO Restaurant at Delta Burnaby Hotel and Conference Centre is 100% Ocean Wise.

Feature Menu

Scallop Saltimbocca

Literally meaning “jump in mouth”, this dish is served with risotto and tomato fennel puree

From July to October 1st – when you order Scallop Saltimbocca – 10% will of the proceeds from this dish will benefit BC Living Oceans Society. Living Oceans Society is Canada’s largest organization focusing exclusively on marine conservation issues. Living in a coastal community, we are reminded each day that it’s not just about the fish—it’s about the fish and the people. Living Oceans Society believes that people are part of the environment and that by protecting the B.C. coastal ecosystem, we can build sustainable communities today and for our children.